THE CLASS OF 1916

RESPECTFULLY DEDICATES THIS VOLUME OF

IN LOVING MEMORY

OF HIS DEEP INTEREST IN OUR COLLEGE;

TO ONE WHO LIVING

WAS A SOURCE OF NOBLE INSPIRATION,

AND WHO HAVING GONE TO HIS REWARD

HAS LEFT BEHIND HIM AS A SACRED HERITAGE

HIS GENEROUS KINDLY DEEDS

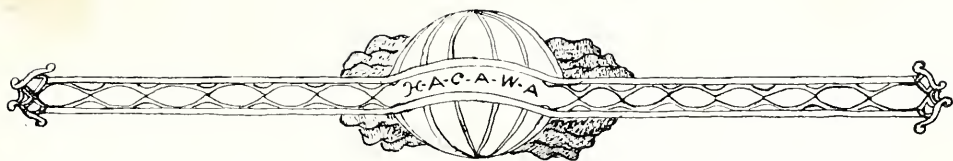

Rev. Andrew Leonhardt Crouse

REV. A. L. CROUSE was the son of a Lutheran minister. His father, the Rev. Thomas Crouse, was born in Davidson County, N. C.; was baptized and confirmed in Beck's Church of the Evangelical Lutheran Tennessee Synod; and preached his last sermon there, ten days before his death. His paternal ancestors came from Germany to Pennsylvania, and from thence to North Carolina. His mother's parents came to this country from Ireland.

Rev. Thomas Crouse was ordained by the Evangelical Lutheran Tennessee Synod to the office of deacon in 1845, and to the office of pastor in 1850. He remained a faithful and fearless pastor of this Synod until his death, which occurred in 1876.

Andrew Leonhardt Crouse was born in Randolph County, N. C., June 8, 1849. His mother was Barbary Fox (Fuchs), a descendant, through her maternal line, from one of the Electors of Saxony. Andrew was a frail child, and was baptized soon after his birth by his father, for which Pastor Crouse praised God until death. He early set his heart upon the Lutheran ministry as his life work, and earnestly applied himself to the work of preparation for this holy calling. In those early days, the Synod had no college, and Mr. Crouse had to educate himself to a large extent, getting what assistance he could from the high schools and academies of that period. He was directed in his theological studies by his sainted father; and by persistent and continuous perseverance in this, to him, most interesting subject, he acquired a comprehensive knowledge of the Lutheran Confessions and of the Lutheran Doctrine.

Pastor Crouse preached his first sermon in Grace Church, Catawba County, N. C., September 30, 1871, and soon after—October 18, 1871—was solemnly ordained to the office of pastor, in Philadelphia Church, Gaston County, N. C., by the Evangelical Lutheran Tennessee Synod. He served first, as assistant pastor to the Rev. Daniel Efir, several churches in connection with the Evangelical Lutheran Tennessee Synod in Lexington County, S. C. After serving as assistant for one year, he accepted a call to become pastor of five of these congregations—Cedar Grove, St. Paul's, St. Peter's (Meetze's), Zion, and Emmanuel. He did faithful work in this large pastorate for four years. From 1876 to 1882, he spent much of his time in mission work in South Carolina and Alabama. From 1882 to 1888, he was pastor of Bethlehem congregation, Augusta County, Va. For one year he served the Orkney Springs pastorate of the Virginia Conference of the Tennessee Synod. In 1889, he accepted a call to Mount Olive and St. Stephen congregations, Hickory, N. C., and served Mount Olive for three years and St. Stephen's for nearly eighteen years. From 1897 to 1906 he served Friendship, St. Paul's, Salem, and Shiloh congregations, in Alexander County, N. C., in connection with St. Stephen's. In 1906, he accepted a call to Immanuel Church, Charlottesville, Va., where he labored faithfully until his death, which occurred October 13, 1915.

Few pastors do more personal missionary work than did Pastor Crouse. He organized no fewer than five congregations—St. James', St. Thomas', and St. Andrew's, in South Carolina; St. Michael's, in Alabama; and Bethel, in Virginia. Besides this, he reorganized several, and did the preliminary work for the organization of a number of others. During his life he organized two parochial schools—one in Virginia, and one in North Carolina.

But that which stands out pre-eminent in his life, perhaps, is the part he played in the founding of Lenoir College. When he came to Hickory, in 1889, Col. J. G. Hall, the administrator of Col. W. W. Lenoir, was offering this magnificent site to any church which would establish a first-class college upon it. Pastor Crouse was deeply impressed with the wonderful opportunity here offered to the Lutheran Church to build up an institution in the heart of a Lutheran constituency. He succeeded in interesting three of his brother pastors—Revs. J. C. Moser, R. A. Yoder, and W. P. Cline. These four men, firmly believing that this door was opened unto them by the Lord, and strong to follow where he led, boldly gave their personal notes for twenty-five hundred dollars each, and thus secured for the Evangelical Lutheran Church this magnificent property. This was an act of Christian heroism, and places these men among those whom the church, for all time, should delight to honor. In the laying of the cornerstone of the present administration building of the College, Pastor Crouse took the leading part in the service. Besides being the Synod's theological teacher, to which he was called in 1892, Pastor Crouse held the chair of German and Assistant in English in the newly launched institution. It is as a teacher of theology in Lenoir College that he will be remembered longest as a professor, perhaps. To the time of his death he loved to speak of those who studied theology under him, and always called them his boys; and they, in turn, remember and speak of him, affectionately, as Father Crouse.

Pastor Crouse will be remembered widely and long as an editor and publisher. At Summit, S. C., he founded and published The Summit Courier, a paper which had a wide circulation and influence. At Hickory, he founded The Educator, which, in its latest evolution has become The Lenoirian. He also was the founder and first publisher of Our Church Record, and was for a long time German Exchange Editor of Our Church Paper. He published also A Christian Catechism for Children, besides several sermons and pamphlets which have had a wide circulation.

Pastor Crouse was twice married. His first wife was Miss Tirza Adeline Darr, who died less than two years after their marriage. His second wife was Miss Mary Livinia Bilbro, of Greensboro, N. C., with whom he lived happily until death called her home—February 16, 1910. His first marriage was blessed with one child—Thomas Henry, who lived but a few days. His second marriage fruited two sons—Luther Augustus and Carl Froelich; and one daughter—Luda Amelia. Luther Augustus was called home, at Summit, S. C.

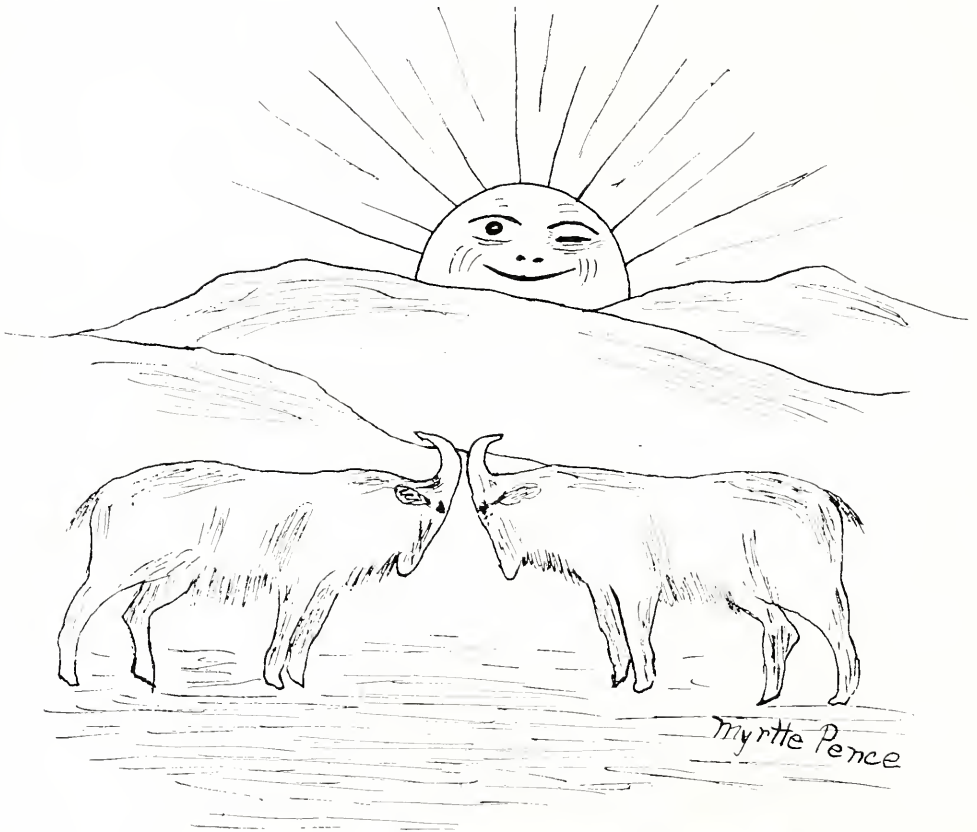

As professor, pastor, editor, author, brother, and father, he will be affectionately remembered, and as such he, though dead, yet speaketh.

Foreword

Another year's work at Lenoir is done. With all its variety and monotony, difficulties and delights, it has passed into history. In the pages which follow, we have tried to give an insight into our college life — to chronicle in art and literature the events of the past year, and to preserve to the members of the Class of 1916 the best of the college traditions and inspirations. And when in years to come you happen upon this volume of if it recalls to mind pleasant memories of happy schooldays, we, the Editors, shall feel that our work has not been in vain.

HACAWA

Senior Class Poem

LONG our weary feet have trod;
Our path at times has seemed quite hard;
Through Lenoir's open door we've passed,
And knowledge we strove for to the last.

But trials and troubles do appear,
And thin our ranks have grown each year;
We rally 'round, and with a thrill,
Yet find we're our own even still.

Dear classmates, through life's shifty way,
Remember Lenoir still; and may
College days claim a memory,
Whose rays will brighten our journey.

But now the goal salutes our gaze,
The last of many college days.
We crave the grace to plant a tree
And sing the song of memory.

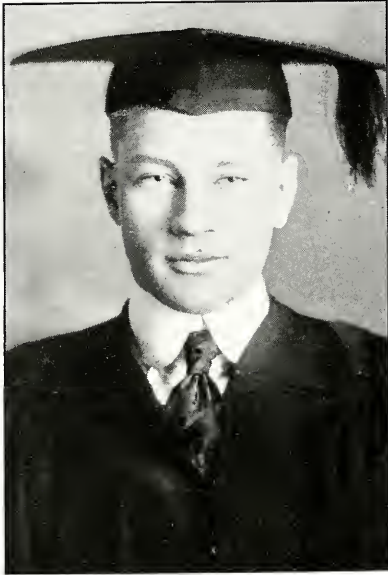

When we survey the fading past,
And dream of days that went so fast;
Full many a thorn that once was ours,
Seems all a-bloom now with flowers.

But let the strain of music cease
Which pleads of days and hours like these.
Another note pleads loud and clear.
Exulting Hope leaps up to hear

The bugle call of life to men,
Who must the battle now begin.
How sternly sweet that lofty song—
"Defend the right, redress the wrong!"

—R. BRUCE SIGMON, Class Poet

F. F. ALLEN, A. B.
HICKORY, N. C.

Class Historian '14; Scholarship Medal '13; Scrub Debater '14; Business Manager Lenoirian '15; Junior Orator '15; President Euronian Society; Euronian Anniversary Debater '16; Editor-in-Chief HACAWA '16; Valedictorian.

FRANK has rightly been called the genius of the Class. His record as a student is to be envied. He is a great admirer of Nature, appreciates the artistic pictures of the poet, and finds pleasure in the mysteries of science and philosophy. One glance at his countenance reveals his remarkable personality. This personality is the source of his great executive ability. FRANK is a peerless orator and debater, "from whose persuasive lips flow words sweeter than honey." He expects to develop his literary talent more fully, and eventually to study law. We feel confident that the future holds in store for him unexampled success.

"In joys, in grief, in triumphs, in retreat, Great always, without aiming to be great"

DAISY AGNER, A. B.
SALISBURY, N. C.

DAISY is a great favorite with the girls and boys, because of her natural wit and originality. Entering as a Sub-Freshman, for five years has she imbibed at dear Lenoir's fountain of wisdom. Besides her regular work, she has devoted some time to Music, and has been a leading spirit in the Eumenean Society.

Faith in DAISY's abilities and perseverance leads us to expect great things from her.

"A merry heart goes all the day"

MARY ALLEN, Domestic Science
HICKORY, N. C.

MARY has been in school at Lenoir for two years. It is apparent that she is especially gifted in the art of Domestic Science. To her it has ever been a delight to sit and "dream of the dainties she can make from cream." Possessed of a keen sense of humor, she is a girl to whom the bright and joyous in life appeals most. She is sincere and loyal to her friends, and ever ready to help them. MARY intends to specialize further in her chosen work. We predict for her success; for when she once makes up her mind to accomplish anything, she usually succeeds.

"To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield"

C. V. CLINE, A. B.
HICKORY, N. C.

Scrub Debater '12-'13; Junior Orator '15;
Class Orator '16.

"Doc" was preparing to study medicine when one day he decided that there is not enough money in pill-slinging, and so he has made up his mind to go into business. He is a strong advocate of the flowery-bed theory of life. On special occasions—for example, when someone tries to down him in Society—he gives vent to impassioned eloquence. CARL is a shrewd individual, and this fact, combined with his jovial, carefree disposition, will make him a leader.

"The mind's the measure of the man"

RUTH CORPENING, Voice
NEWTON, N. C.

RUTH has been with us only two years—a jolly, carefree girl, who tries to make everyone around her enjoy life. She is very industrious, and quite faithful. And what a voice she does have! But never mind; perhaps you'll be permitted the pleasure of hearing her sing. RUTH is thinking of teaching. Her intense interest in Voice, Music, and Expression makes her success practically certain.

"I do but sing because I must"

F. L. CONRAD, A. B.
THOMASVILLE, N. C.

Pres. Soph. Class, '13-'14; Fresh-Soph. Debater '13-'14; Sec'y Luther League '14-'15; Euronian Anniversary Debater's Medal '15; Varsity Baseball '12-'13, '13-'14, '14-'15; Varsity Tennis, '14-'15, '15-'16; Varsity Basket-Ball '15-'16; Mgr. Tennis Team '15-'16; Junior Orator '15; Ed.-in-Chief The Lenoirian '15; Pres. L. C. Luther League '15-'16; Pres. Timothean Assoc. '15-'16; Pres. Euronian Society; Pres. Student Commission Highland Hall '15-'16; Bus. Mgr. HACAWA '15-'16.

"CON" is a likable chap. His popularity is seemingly unbounded. The ladies as well as the fellows fall for his charming manners. But, in spite of all this, he is not "puffed-up," and has accepted his honors with modesty. He has a clear, logical mind, and as Bus. Mgr. of HACAWA has demonstrated that he has the qualifications of a successful business man. CONRAD is preparing himself for the ministry. He is sure to make a deep impression wherever he goes.

"His words are bonds, his oaths are oracles"

MODELLE DAVIS, Music
HICKORY, N. C.

During the three years MODELLE has been with us, she has certainly worked diligently; not only in her Music, but also in her literary course. Notwithstanding the fact that she is so young and small, her playing is marvelous. If she continues her study in Music, she will become a very accomplished musician. MODELLE is also an active Society member.

"Music exalts each joy, allays each grief, and softens every pain"

E. A. HUNSUCKER, A. B.
CONOVER, N. C.

Senior Representative Highland Student Commission '15-'16; Varsity Basket-Ball '15-'16; Varsity Tennis '15-'16.

"HONEY," as he is familiarly called, has been with us only one year. Certain it is that Catawba College has missed him; but she has reason to be proud, in that his high regard for scholastic ideals proves her merit. This young man is a clear, consistent thinker, and a splendid, clean-cut athlete. He is going to enter the medical profession. May we here express the hope that some day the name of DR. HUNSUCKER will be famous as a benefactor of man.

*"Although we sneer in health, when ill
We call them to attend us"*

MARY HUFFMAN, A. B.
HICKORY, N. C.

MARY is a product of Hickory—"nuf sed!" This golden-haired maiden with a charming personality is endowed with the power of fascination. For four years her cheery smile has been an inspiration to her classmates. But don't get the wrong impression of our "MARY." She is a deep thinker, and altogether is a very well-balanced young lady. MARY has a good voice, also; and we feel sure her vocal aspirations will be gratified, for she usually executes what she undertakes.

"She is herself of best things the collection"

C. L. HERMAN, A. B.
HICKORY, N. C.

Class Historian '13; Scrub Debater '14; Contributing Editor of Lenoirian '15; Assistant Business Manager HACAWA '16.

"TUBBY" is one of those rare individuals—a combination of jollity, patience, and wisdom. When you meet him, he impresses you with the bigness of his character. For four years he has been the comrade, friend, and youthful adviser of the students; and many are those who will testify to his unselfish devotion to the cause of man. As a student he stands second to none—the Faculty will vouch for that. His massive, penetrating brain has served him in good stead in solving the difficulties of Calculus, Psychology, and Greek. CLYDE goes out from Lenoir with more than his share of knowledge, and with the fervent hopes for his success of the entire student-body.

"We know what we are, but know not what we may be"

MARY KILLIAN, Domestic Science
LINCOLNTON, N. C.

MARY has studied Domestic Science during the two years she has been at Lenoir. She is a quiet, modest girl, a ready sympathizer, with a reputation for spreading sunshine. MARY also has musical talent. Interested in athletics, she has taken an active part in all college sports. Whatever her intentions may be, we wish her the best of success.

"To be good is to be happy"

M. J. KLUTTZ, Special
SALISBURY, N. C.

Scrub Debater '14; College Representative to Clapp Orators' Contest '14; Euronian Anniversary Debater '15; Winner of Junior Orators' Medal '15; President Euronian Society.

If you want things done to a finish, just call on "JOE." He is a worker: but that is not all—he has ability. He hails from Salisbury, famous for its granite. That accounts for his grim determination. Nowhere will you find a truer friend and a man of nobler aspirations. A leader in the religious life of the College, his very earnestness assures his success in the ministry. He intends to continue his literary work for some time, and then will enter a theological seminary.

"Energy and persistence conquer all things"

C. H. LYERLY
CRESCENT, N. C.

"SHORT BUTT" is a popular fellow, although he has been with us only one year. In athletics, he is a star. When it comes to speaking, he is "right there" with a voice like that of W. J. Bryan, and a dignity comparable to that of Gladstone of old. For wit and "hot air," he is unsurpassed. The last is not said in condemnation, for we believe in it. "More things are wrought by 'gas' than this world dreams of"—especially in law, which CARL expects to enter. Should you need legal aid in years to come, consult the distinguished individual whose picture appears above.

*"Deep, subtle wits,
In truth, are master spirits of the world"*

J. N. LYERLY, A. B.
CRESCENT, N. C.

JAKE entered our ranks last September—truly a valuable addition. He is a good student, and the possessor of a keen mind, abounding in wit. He does not seek popularity, but nevertheless his friendly disposition wins respect. This young man is an earnest supporter of the Chrestonian Society, and is an athlete of no mean ability. He expects to continue his literary work.

"Verily, eloquence shall throne thee with archangels"

MRS. LETITIA DOAK MORGAN, Voice
HICKORY, N. C.

MRS. MORGAN is the wife of our much-respected professor. She is so sweet and kind, ever ready to help and sympathize, that one just cannot refrain from loving her. Before studying Voice at Lenoir, she studied for two years at Marion College, Virginia, and one year at the Conservatory of Music, Farmville, Va., under Dr. August Schemmel. Still she is not satisfied, and expects to continue her study of Voice.

"Sweet is every sound;
Sweeter thy voice"

L. S. MILLER, A. B.
HICKORY, N. C.

Class Historian '14-'15; Orator Euronian Anniversary '15; Junior Orator '15; Class Historian '15-'16; Laboratory Assistant '15-'16; Class Orator '16.

An honest man is "CHIPPIE," a gentleman through and through. Though quiet and unassuming, there is none more admired and respected. The love of truth and right predominates in his make-up. Just to show that he can do things, he assumed this year the extra burden of Assistant in the Physical and Chemical laboratories, and made good from the start. With his strong body, powerful voice, and noble character, he will be a leader in his chosen profession—the ministry.

"Master, go on, and I will follow thee
To the last gasp, with truth and loyalty"

PEARL MILLER, Voice
HICKORY, N. C.

If PEARL becomes a primadonna, we will not be surprised, for with all her talents she will certainly make a name.

Her sweet and lovable disposition has won for her many friends. She intends to pursue further her study of the specials—Music, Voice, and Expression, during the coming summer.

Perhaps then she will teach. We predict for her much success.

"Her voice was ever soft, gentle, and low—
An excellent thing in woman"

EMMABEL MCFALL, Special
HICKORY, N. C.

We call her "LITTLE 'UN," which we consider a very appropriate name, for she is a small, dark-haired, brown-eyed girl. She entered Lenoir from the Hickory High School, in 1912. EMMABEL's sweet, lovable disposition, and her true, sincere character, have gained for her friendship and esteem. She decided to take a Special Course this year, and will perhaps come back next year for more work. Then she intends to teach, and also to specialize in Voice.

"A foot more light, a step more true,
Ne'er from the heath flower dashed the dew"

MARGUERITE PORTER, A. B.
BARIUM SPRINGS, N. C.

During the four years "PEGGY" has been with us, she has had many friends whom she won through her characteristic kindness. She has done much for her Society—Philalethean; and has been a leader in many other branches, especially in religious affairs. Besides her literary work, she has studied Music. MARGUERITE intends to teach for a few years; and how we do envy her pupils!

*"There is no pleasure like the pain
Of being loved, and loving"*

MYRTLE PENCE, Art
MINT HILL, N. C.

"MYRTLE" came to Lenoir in the fall of 1914, from Davenport College, where she had studied Art for a short while. She is a quiet, modest girl, devoted to her work. This young lady has been a very faithful member of the Philalethean Society, and also is an enthusiastic participant in athletic sports. Just cast your eyes over the drawings in this book, dear reader, and you will agree with us that she is "some" artist. After completing her course of Art here, MYRTLE intends to continue studying for a few more years, and then perhaps to teach. Judging from a non-partisan standpoint, we can't see how failure is possible to her.

*"To draw men as they ought to be,
Not as they are"*

J. C. RUDISILL, A. B.
MAIDEN, N. C.

Fresh-Soph Debater '12; Basket-Ball Manager '13-'14-'15-'16; Chrestonian Anniversary Debater '15; Junior Orator '15; President Chrestonian Society '15; President Athletic Association '15-'16; President Junior Class '14-'15; President Chrestonian Anniversary '16; Salutatorian.

"SKINNY" has been a member of our Class from the start. Much merited honor has been bestowed upon him by his fellow-students. He is an eloquent and persuasive speaker, and takes great interest in athletics. JUSTICE has been a pillar of strength in the Athletic Association. He has given much attention to Latin, German, and "The Girl." He expects to study law.

Here's to you, JUDGE RUDISILL. May you win many cases.

*"She was his life,
The ocean to the river of his thoughts,
Which terminated all"*

JOHNSIE RHYNE, Mus'c

"JOHNSIE" has worked so faithfully in her Music for the past two years that it is no wonder she is such a musician. She is not only pretty, but also she is the owner of an exceedingly rare temperament. An active member of the Philathean Society, she has worked faithfully for its upbuilding, and has ever had at heart the progress of her College. This young lady will continue the study of Music for several years, in order to fulfill her ambition of becoming a no'ed pianist.

*"Music resembles poetry: in each
Are nameless graces which no methods teach,
And which a master hand alone can reach"*

R. B. SIGMON, A. B.
NEWTON, N. C.

Junior Orator '15; Chrestonian Anniversary Debater '16; President Executive Council '15-'16; Class Poet '16.

BRUCE stands high as a student, orator, and debater. He believes in doing the right thing, regardless of those around him. He possesses strong executive abilities, and has held many responsible offices of trust and honor. Here is a willing helper and a true friend, a lover of Mathematics, Greek, and Music. He has developed into an accomplished ladies' man. BRUCE intends to study for the ministry. We predict a great future for him.

"Who then is free? The wise man who can command himself"

SADIE SETZER, A. B.
HICKORY, N. C.

Without SADIE, I hardly know what our Class would do, for she is our ever-cheerful comforter. She always has a kind word for everyone, and is so ready to do everything possible to help you out of your difficulties! She intends to teach and to study Piano and Voice, but we think that it will not be for long, because —. How happy we hope she will be!

*"Sweet promptings unto kindest deeds
Were in her very look"*

J. L. SOX, A. B.
HICKORY, N. C.

Scrub Debater '11; Euronian Anniversary Debater '12-'13; Junior Orator '13; Varsity Baseball '11-'12-'13-'15.

LOY joined the Senior Class last fall. He was due to graduate the year before this, but owing to sickness he was forced to discontinue his school work for a time. "ZEKE" is a hard man to describe. Slender, yet not slim, he gives one the impression of personality. In the days gone by, it was his diligent toil that helped to make the Euronian Society what it is today, although this year he has been too busy in other lines to take much active part in its affairs. We understand he is interested in Chemistry, and we do not regard it as at all unlikely that the time will come when "Sox's Principles of Chemistry" will be used in all our Universities.

ORA SUBLETT, A. B.
HICKORY, N. C.

After graduating from Hickory High School in 1912, ORA entered Lenoir, where she has many times proved her worth. She is our best and hardest worker—a quiet, unassuming young lady, with knowledge and insight beyond her years. In the classroom, in Society work—in fact, as an all-round college girl, she stands, perhaps, without a rival. Here is a girl one must admire, a girl with a purpose in life and a determination to do something useful. She intends to teach for a year or two, and then will devote herself to Vocal and Instrumental Music. We wish her all success.

"Whate'er he did was done with so much ease"

*"A truer, nobler, trustier heart
Ne'er beat within a human breast"*

P. A. YODER, A. B.
HICKORY, N. C.

Varsity Baseball '12-'13; '13-'14; '14-'15; '15-'16; Captain Baseball Team '14-'16; Varsity Basket-Ball '14-'15, '15-'16; Scrub Debater '14; President Fresh-Soph Debate '14; Class Poet '14-'15; Junior Orator '15; Chrestonian Anniversary Orator '16; President Chrestonian Society; President Senior Class '15-'16.

"BANDY" is popular with all the boys. He is not as large as some members of the Class, but he makes up for it in quality. Always happy, with plenty of "pep," his excellent playing has won many a game for his Class and his College. Had he applied himself as hard in the classroom as he did in athletics, he would have been a star there also, and a bright one. Honored and respected by the Faculty and students alike, he will be missed.

"Attempt the end, and never stand the doubt;
Nothing's so hard but search will find it out"

ELSIE YOUNT, Domestic Science
HICKORY, N. C.

ELSIE came to Lenoir College in 1913. After taking the literary work for a year, she decided to study Domestic Science, and has worked with such zeal and ardor that her success is assured. This young lady likes athletics, and does not shirk Society work. She says she intends to teach; but we think that before many years her Domestic Science will be of much practical use.

"Domestic happiness, thou only bliss
Of Paradise that hast survived the fall!"

LILLIAN PLONK, Voice
KINGS MOUNTAIN, N. C.

LILLIAN is a woman of splendid, noble character. Tall, graceful, attractive, she is the type of girl that has made North Carolina famous. You seldom meet a person so talented as "LIL." She excels in reading, in singing; and also has great dramatic talent. Although somewhat reserved, she has a host of loyal friends.

LILLIAN expects to continue her work in a Northern institution next year. Our best wishes go with her.

Senior Class History

THE Class of 1916 first appeared for duty on the campus of Lenoir College, September, 1912. We came to Lenoir College solely for the purpose of finding the truths that are in store for students who have a broad vision of life. We were only Freshmen, yet eager to learn, and soon won the respect of the entire student-body. Our Freshman year was pleasant, and passed quickly.

At the beginning of the next term, after a pleasant vacation, we came back with renewed energy and inspiration. Our number was decreased, yet the spirit of our Class in no way suffered. Frequent meetings helped to bind us closer together. Our Sophomore year was very profitable, as many new truths were added to our storehouse of knowledge.

The next year found us again at Lenoir College. We were now Juniors, possessing a new and larger vision of those things which are truly valuable in life. This year our members appearing on debating and oration contests established our reputation widely as a class of public speakers.

September, 1915, found us approaching nearer our goal. We rejoiced in the fact that our Senior year had arrived, and soon we were at work. Our work was hard; so we, feeling that some recreation would be helpful, journeyed out to the Cliffs one beautiful spring morning, and enjoyed a day's outing.

Our Class has taken great interest in all phases of college activities. The advantages of Literary Society work have been grasped by every member of the Class. Our members have represented their Societies in debating and oratorical contests, and have always taken an active part in the College plays.

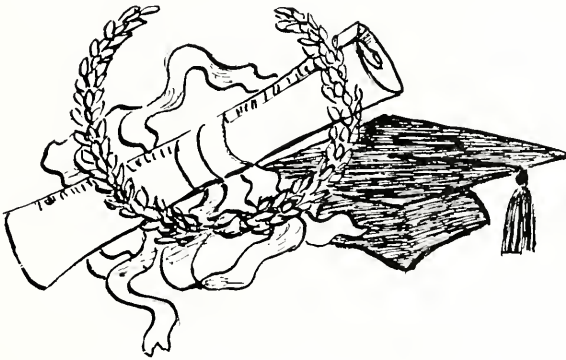

Our members have distinguished themselves in different branches of work, and have won the following medals: The Scholarship Medal, 1913; the Art Medal, 1913; the Junior Orators' Medal, 1915; and the Auxiliary Medals, 1915.

Our Class also has shown much interest in athletics; you have only to look at the different teams in this Annual, and you will see the number of Seniors on each team. We have more athletes than any of the other Classes, and have never suffered a defeat.

For four years we have looked forward to graduation. Each year has found our Class decreasing in numbers, yet increasing in unity. We have tried to grasp the truths that are to be found at Lenoir College. We thank our honored professors, who have given us a larger vision of life. We are now ready to go out and fight the battles of life, and it is hoped that every member of the Class will choose in life only those things which are right and good, ever striving to make the Class of 1916 greater.

—HISTORIAN

Prophecy of Senior Class

THE summer following my graduation at Lenoir College, feeling sad and lonely, I ventured down into a valley to study the geological work of a little stream, which in time had cut its own way through the soil.

Sitting on a nearby rock, and laying my head on a mossy bank, these three terms came into my mind: Transportation, Erosion, and Deposition.

The little brook rippled over the different strata. The birds were singing in the overhanging trees; the summer breezes brought the fragrance from the flowers blooming on the hilltops; the little honey bee sipped water from the brook, and buzzed joyfully away. All nature seemed to pour out its beauty, and blended into peaceful music.

The geological terms remaining in my mind naturally brought to me memories of Lenoir College—not so much of Lenoir College, but my classmates. Where are they? I wondered. But the brook soon ———.

You ask can a brook tell stories? Certainly. Many a story has this same little brook told. And the following is the story it told me of the dear old Class of Sixteen, fifteen years hence.

F. L. CONRAD AND MARY HUFFMAN

“Ripple, Ripple, Ripple! On with the Prophecy of Sixteen. I know you are eager to hear; but I will take both together, for how can I separate them? Yes, Mary and Conrad, two of the most brilliant and witty members of your Class, are as one.

“MARY completed her special courses—Voice, Expression, and Art.

“As soon as CONRAD returned from the seminary of Chicago—if you knew them at Lenoir College, you need not ask how MARY’s sweet face, trusting eye, and cheerful disposition bewitched him. CONRAD has proved to be a second Dr. S. P. Long—due, of course, to MARY.”

ORA SUBLETT

“Don’t worry about your friend with yellow curls leaving Lenoir College. She specialized in Piano and Voice. ORA is, or I mean was, the most noted library teacher of the South; but when you remember her strong character and modest behavior you cannot doubt her present position—the queen of a tidy little parsonage.”

MARGUERITE PORTER

“MARGUERITE next? Why, her story is old. Of course she is the wife of that steady fellow whom she captivated in her Junior year at Lenoir College. In Carrol’s ministerial work, PEGGY brings happiness and sunshine to all she meets. Her qualities make her a true minister’s wife.”

EMMABEL MCFALL AND M. J. KLUTTZ

“And ‘LITTLE ‘UN,’ bless her heart she’s the only missionary among her sisters! Many tried to woo and wed her, but in vain, until she crossed the waters. And whom did she meet but our BROTHER JOE, who had completed his course at the seminary, and was sent to China as a missionary. After the meeting of EMMABEL and JOE, old love kindled at once, and of course resulted in matrimony. They send a monthly record of their work to America. Theirs is a wonderful work.

PAUL YODER

"PAUL, the great athlete, is still at his old tricks. He has established an athletic record that has been the envy of many a boy. Some day "P" will be the champion athlete of America; then he expects to build a mansion for that attractive little girl whose love he won while at Lenoir College."

EZRA HUNSUCKER AND DAISY AGNER

"The story of DAISY and 'HONEY' is heartrending. Every leap year DAISY proposed, but 'HONEY' asked each time for a year's consideration. At last DAISY, heart-broken, gave matrimony up as a lost cause. She is the strongest suffragette of today, while 'HONEY' still pursues his course of law."

L. S. MILLER

"It seems that SUMMIE's fate was sealed just on account of his good nature. He finished his course at the seminary, but sad to say his health broke down marrying couples on leap year free of charge. Considering the amount of valuable service SUMMIE had rendered, Synod sent him West for his health, where he fell in love with a Western girl, who soon became a quiet, modest minister's wife. SUMMIE's health restored, he now holds the honorable position as instructor in the Theological Seminary at Columbia, S. C."

R. B. SIGMON

"BRUCE is the most progressive farmer of the South. Not only a farmer, but one of Synod's ablest ministers. You wonder how he can be both, but listen—it's just the result of his hard labor at Lenoir College. You know already who his helpmate is, if you remember that No. 12 Southern was BRUCE's train to Conover almost every Sunday evening."

F. F. ALLEN AND JOHNSIE RHYNE

"FRANK, the genius, has reached his destination. After he finished his course at Harvard University, to his great surprise he was elected President of the United States. But not so surprising to his little dark-haired wife, JOHNSIE, for she gave many a sigh to hold her present position. Never before has the dear old White House been thrilled with music, and never from henceforth will the United States fear a bloody war."

C. L. HERMAN

"If you take into consideration his ability of being so exact and frank, and also his capacity for work, you can readily predict his future. After leaving Lenoir College, he immediately entered Yale University, where he graduated. While there, he developed a serious case of love with a beautiful village maiden. These being the first real symptoms, there was no remedy except (—). He was elected Vice-President of the United States, and his home is in the White House at present, with his old chum. Their work is the perfect example of the old saying, "Great minds run in the same channel"; for they have made life easy in the United States, and above all they made peace between the warring nations. Prospects are that they will be re-elected next term."

CARL LYERLY

"Feeling that he had a sufficient amount of education after leaving Lenoir College, CARL took a correspondence course in his favorite old subject, "The art of lovemaking." In this course, he learned to crack jokes at the same time. He now publishes the Sunday paper, which he has revised, and made an improvement on worth noting."

CARL CLINE AND J. LOY SOX

"After finishing their course at Harvard University, and realizing what cultivated tastes they possessed, these two young lads went into partnership to compose poetry. Their first work was to introduce new verse forms and new styles of English poetry, which showed their mastery of meter. Their poetry has a refined, finished, and delicate beauty. Their energy and purpose are making life a success for them."

J. C. RUDISILL

"After leaving Lenoir, JUSTICE was not satisfied with his knowledge of astronomy; especially was the nebular hypothesis a puzzle to him. Thus he made a further study of this subject at Yerkes Observatory, where it was made clear to him; and he erected an observatory on top of the main building of Lenoir College. With the aid of his little golden-haired wife, JUSTICE points out and explains to millions of people the numerous nebulae which can be seen by scanning the heavens with a telescope."

J. N. LYERLY

"Amid great wonder and admiration, JAKE successfully completed his course at a northern seminary. He immediately sailed for South America, to Christianize the heathen. Today the church is proud of his ability and ambition; but, most of all, the great number of souls he has turned from darkness into light."

LILLIAN PLONK

"LILLIAN, with her trained ear, careful tongue, and willing hand, after completing Voice and Expression in the North, is carrying on a most successful life on the stage. But, listen! not for fame or glory; but the most noble of all, the church. She supports three missionaries in India, and promises to support others whom she is urging and pleading with to go."

RUTH CORPENING

"SISTER RUTH's thinking, encouraging smiles and executing hands have won for her endless prosperity. She continued her course in Voice until she was equal to her instructors. Then she traveled Spain and Italy, stealing the hearts of young lads by singing to them, but kept her old motto: "Never love more than one boy in the same place." Unable to find her mate on either side of the ocean, RUTH established an orphanage at Newton, N. C. Today she is caring for many homeless children, and teaching them that the greatest art is to be able to sing."

MODELLE DAVIS

"You could quickly decide what the little musician is doing. She continued her work at the conservatory of music. Her ability and reputation have won for her a noble position—the most noted pianist of the South. Many a suitor has been turned heartbroken from her door. As always, she does not realize her capabilities."

ELSIE YOUNT

"ELSIE, the genius in Domestic Science, has proved a wonder. She completed her course at the Normal. All over the United States she has established Domestic Science departments in connection with the schools. Her work is a success; but how can it be otherwise when she is the wife of that bright and witty little fellow whom she won at Lenoir College?"

MRS. F. G. MORGAN

"MRS. MORGAN, the sweetest singer of today, is teaching Voice in a college in New York, of which her brilliant husband is president. If today you could hear Frances' birdlike voice, you would at once recognize her mother's successful training and teaching."

MYRTLE PENCE

"This noted artist is in Paris, still pursuing her course. The Pence Art Gallery is known throughout the world. People flock from everywhere to view especially MYRTLE's beautiful landscapes."

PEARL MILLER

"After further study of Voice, PEARL taught the same in different States. One beautiful Sunday morning, while singing to a crowded audience, she recognized in the rear of the church her first and only love. An elopement at once took place."

As the little brook murmured these last words rather low, I immediately raised my head, wondering if I had been forgotten. But to my sorrow the brook had eroded its bed so deep that I only heard my name in the ripples as they moved on toward the great sea.

Last Will and Testament

LENOIR COLLEGE
HICKORY, N. C.

WE, the Senior Class of 1916, being fully aware of the fact that we will soon have reached the day when we can be no longer mothered by our dear old "alma mater," and that henceforth we will have to bear the toils and hardships of the cold unsympathetic world alone, without her guiding and protecting hand; and being this once in full possession of a sound mind, memory, and understanding; do make known, publish, and declare this our Last Will and Testament, at the same time rendering null and void any Wills by us at any time heretofore made. At the same time, we also wish to appoint the Sophomore Class as our lawful executors, to execute even to the smallest item everything contained in this our Last Will and Testament. And such estate as it has pleased the Muses and our kind Fates to bestow on us, we do dispose of as follows, viz.:

Item I: We do will and bequeath to the Faculty and Board of Trustees our sincere and heartfelt thanks for the many things they have done in our behalf, and for their untiring efforts in trying to impart to us some of their vast store of knowledge.

Item II: To the beloved President of our College, we will our love and loyalty, and pray that he will be successful in the great project he has now undertaken—the raising of a Lenoir College endowment fund.

Item III: To the Faculty, we will the right to use whatsoever of our startling information and knowledge that we have gained by our own untiring zeal and perseverance, or that it has pleased our kind Fates to bestow on us while we were making our sojourn at this abode of culture—the same to be used in the further promotion of the intellectual genius of the future students of Lenoir College.

Item IV: To the Junior Class, we do will all of our Senior Dignity and Senior P-r-i-v-i-l-e-g-e-s.

Item V: We also will to the Junior Class our knowledge of "Old English," with the hope that they will be benefited by it.

Item VI: To the Sophomore Class, we will our enthusiasm for our College; and we also will them our studious habits.

Item VII: To the Freshman Class, we wish to leave this advice: "Be not wise in your own conceit. Do not be discouraged over your failures, but let them be stepping-stones to something higher and better."

Item VIII: To the Preparatory Classes, we also will a little advice. "Do not waste your time in idleness, but learn when and how to work, and when and how to play. Be faithful to your studies. If you heed this advice, you will never have cause to regret it."

Of our personal and other property, we do dispose as follows:

Item 1: Mr. Loy Sox wills his record of being the last one to enter every classroom to Mr. Grady Stroup.

Item 2: Mr. J. C. Rudisill wills and bequeaths all the old shoes he received from Miss Rhodes, last Commencement, to Miss Grace Henderson. (They were too large for him!)

Item 3: Miss Marguerite Porter wills her "all" to Mr. C. N. Yount, a former graduate of Leroir College.

Item 4: Mr. Carl Lyerly, after considering the fact that he has an over-abundant supply of "brains" in his cranium, has finally decided to will the superfluous amount to Miss Emma Newton.

Item 5: Miss Emmabel McFall, out of the great kindness of her heart, wills and bequeaths to her friend, Miss Ruth Campbell, her wonderful poetic talent.

Item 6: Mr. Carl Cline wills his old pipe to Mr. Craig Yoder, on condition that he use it. Should he not do so, it shall revert to Mr. Bob Price.

Item 7: Mr. Frank Allen, the genius of our Class, wills to Mr. Paul Ashby his method of gaining the undying love of Professor Hartwig.

Item 8: Miss Daisy Agner wills and bequeaths her jolly, humorous disposition, along with her love for the Highland boys, to Miss Cora Neas.

Item 9: Miss Ruth Corpening wills her interest in Mr. R. O. McCoy to Miss Chloe Miller.

Item 10: Mr. M. J. Kluttz wills his quiet, studious example as a zealous student to Miss Vivian Walters.

Item 11: Miss Myrtle Pence wills to Mr. C. T. Carpenter her sincere love of art.

Item 12: Mr. Summie Miller, after having carefully considered the qualifications of Mr. H. I. Lippard, has finally decided to will to him his position as Assistant Professor of the Scientific Department.

Item 13: Misses Modelle Davis and Johnsie Rhyne will to the world their musical talent.

Item 14: Mr. R. B. Sigmon wills his love for the pursuit of knowledge to Mr. Roy Huffman. He hopes that Mr. Huffman will find it enjoyable.

Item 15: Miss Pearl Miller wills her knowledge of Vocal Music to all students of Lenoir College who are interested in the same.

Item 16: Miss Sadie Setzer wills and bequeaths her sweet disposition, and her deep sympathy for anyone in trouble, to Miss Nellie Drye.

Item 17: Messrs. Paul Yoder, Ezra Hunsucker, and Justice Rudisill will their E-Z-est plan to get German sentences to the Misses Eula and Chloe Epting.

Item 18: Miss Mary Huffman wills and bequeaths her great popularity, wherever she goes, to Miss Ethel Setzer; and she has generously added one of her pretty dimples to this bequest.

Item 19: Mr. Clyde Herman wills to all bashful Highland boys his graceful manner of assisting young ladies down from perilous cliffs.

Item 20: Miss Elsie Yount wills her knowledge of cooking and general household management to Mr. Wert Rhyne.

Item 21: Mr. Jake Lyerly wills and bequeaths his boundless affection for the young ladies to Mr. E. G. Mauney.

Item 22: Mrs. Morgan wills and bequeaths her sweet voice to her family, for both pleasure and instruction.

Item 23: We, the girls of the Senior Class (A. B.), out of the magnanimity of our hearts, do will and bequeath to the noble members of the Faculty, each, a Latin biscuit shortened with Physics.

Item 24: Mr. F. L. Conrad wills his successful business ability to the next manager of the HACAWA, Mr. Glenn Frye.

Item 25: We, the Senior Class as a whole, do will and bequeath all livestock, such as ponies and horses, to the care and the keeping of Mr. Charles Reitzel, on condition that, when he no longer needs them, he shall give them to some other needy person.

Item 26: I, Ora Sublett, do will that my inability to write a Class Will may serve as an example to the next Senior Class, in such a way as to cause them to select someone capable of the task.

In consequence whereof, we, in the presence of those assembled and ourselves, do set our seals to this our last Will and Testament, this twenty-fourth day of May, Anno Domini, One Thousand Nine Hundred Sixteen.

Junior Class History

THE trains coming into Hickory during the first week of September, 1913, brought and gave into the fostering care of Lenoir College a huge mass of raw and green material, which became known as the Freshman Class. Of course a very few of us had served as apprentices for one year, under the name of "Preps," but we still felt a strange and uneasy feeling when we thought of joining the ranks of the "Freshies," on whom the vengeance of the Sophomores is wrought; and of assuming the attendant burdens. But it was not so unpleasant as we thought; in fact, we found, in that year, bonds of friendship which will not soon be broken. We found in the Soph. Class many noble characters worthy of emulation, and since then, through the succeeding years, we have been led on by the examples of those industrious men of the Class just before us.

The beginning of our Sophomore year found most of us ready again to pursue our course of scholastic discipline. Some, however, were lost to the Class during the summer vacation; but fortunately there were others to join us at that point in our journey through college. That year found us beginning to realize that we were fast becoming men and women, who could not afford to shirk the duties that devolved upon us. We began to have some conception of what a college course meant, though hazy it might have been, which made us better workers and better thinkers, and gave us a clearer vision into the proper attitude toward men and things.

The third year we were still a little smaller numerically; but larger in class spirit, in will power, in ambition, in aspiration, in brains, and in a conception of what real life is. Talents of various forms are not lacking in our Class, for, in most of the activities of college life we are able to find Junior representatives. One member of the Junior Class has been star player on the Varsity Basket-Ball team for two sessions. There are also Juniors on other Varsity teams, who are popular among the athletic fans. We have also furnished some of Lenoir's good debaters, orators, and musicians.

There is yet another year to spend under the guidance, direction, and motherly care of Lenoir, which we hope will be done without a vacancy in our ranks. After this time, we will commence many histories in the grim realities of life.

—ROBERT O. MCCOY, Historian

Junior Class Poem

O LIVING soul of mortal man,
Thou who in darkness has begun
A dreadful voyage out upon
Life's boisterous sea! No living plan
By which the shore might e'er be found
Was thine, when locked within thy ground.

But knowledge with her light serene
Shone through the darkness on thy way;
Thy soul, too, saw once more the day
Where thou didst dwell while pure and clean,
That hope as in dark nights of yore
Might guide thy ship of life ashore.

As we now leave our Junior Year,
May that pure light shine brighter still
That, though the dashing waves may fill
Our vessel, we shall never fear,
But with our backs turned on the night
Pursue the shore—Eternal Light.

Hacawa

(With apologies to E. E. B.)

THE hours I spent on thee, dear book,
Are as a chain of thoughts that to me fall,
When on thy pages I do look,
My HACAHA, my HACAHA.

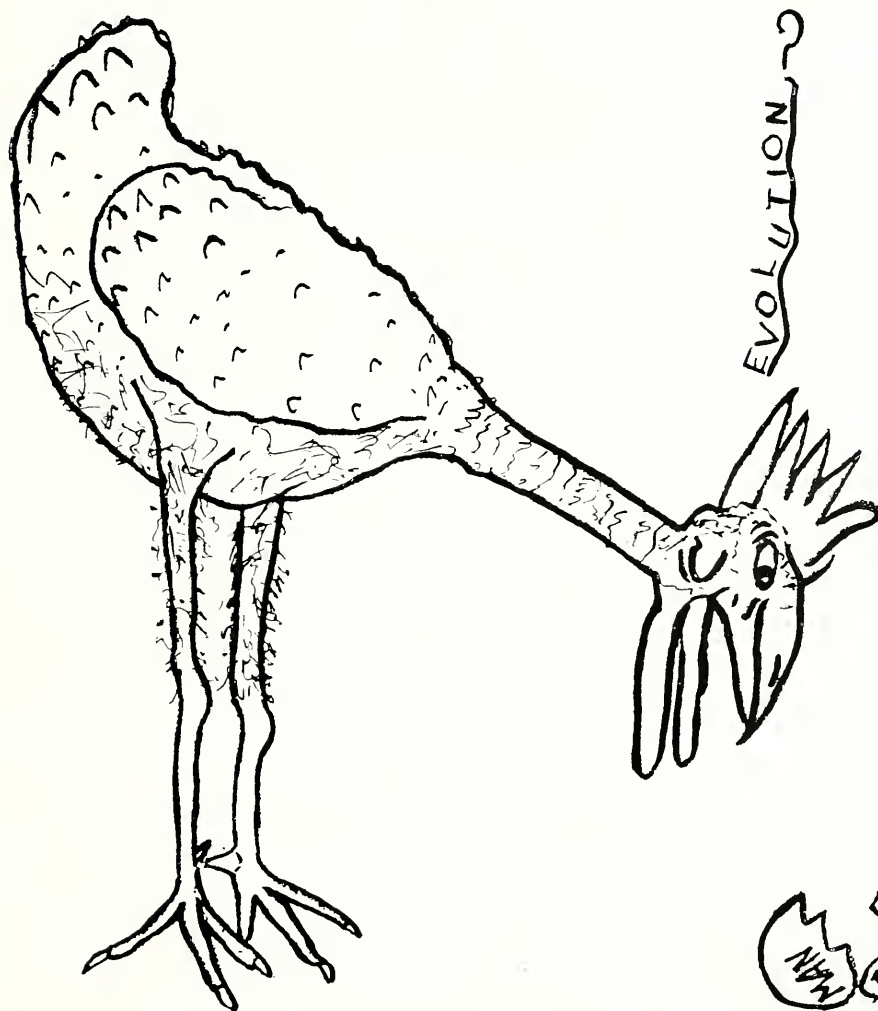

Each hour a link, each link a thought,
Of days of fear or hope for thee:
I turn thy pages o'er and o'er again,
Refreshing memory.

O memories of hours gone by,
Of tears and joys that are no more,
I think on them, and then at last I sigh
That schooldays are forever o'er.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

History of the Sophomore Class

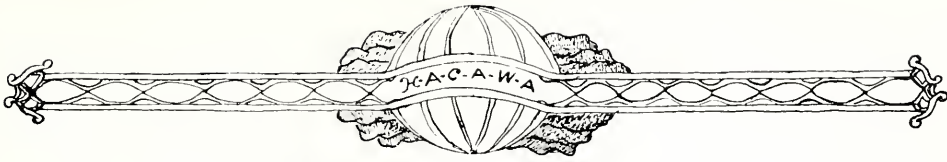

THE Class of Nineteen Hundred and Eighteen had its initiation as a college class at Lenoir College, September 1, 1914. Many of the members of this unique Class were new—not only to each other, but also new to routine of college activities. There was no taunting of the upper classmen. Some of the Sophomores and Juniors one night ventured to advise all “rats” to lie low. We immediately demanded an explanation. These worthies meekly informed us that all this was done for the “Preps,” and that it was not intended for us.

We soon set to work with a will. There were many hardships; we made mistakes daily. The work seemed hard and heavy, but we kept on, always having in mind our motto—Per Aspera ad Astra. Throughout the two years we have plodded on; now a familiar face would drop out—perhaps gone forever; now one would fall in line with us; but all have had a deep love for their Class, and a still deeper and stronger love for their College.

During our two years we had many enjoyable occasions, yet I believe some, or most, of our boys have suffered at times from a disease prevalent at co-educational schools, caused by a Miss-understanding. Then, at certain stages in our scholastic growth, some of the Faculty who are jealous of our progress persist in erecting bars that act as sieves through which only the fine sand is able to seep.

Our Class is well represented in the Art, Music, and Expression rooms. They also say that we are going to have some expert cooks. However, the most important and the most to be cherished are our attainments in scholarship. One of our members won the Scholarship Medal for '14-'15. Whatever happens, we are determined to trample failure under foot, and mount ever higher toward success.

(With apologies to the former poets)

SOME say we're sophisticated,
Others say we're ill-fated.

Perhaps we are all these—

Half unmeaningly though they tease.

Only please don't forget

Maybe we'll be Seniors yet.

Or at least we'll defend our name

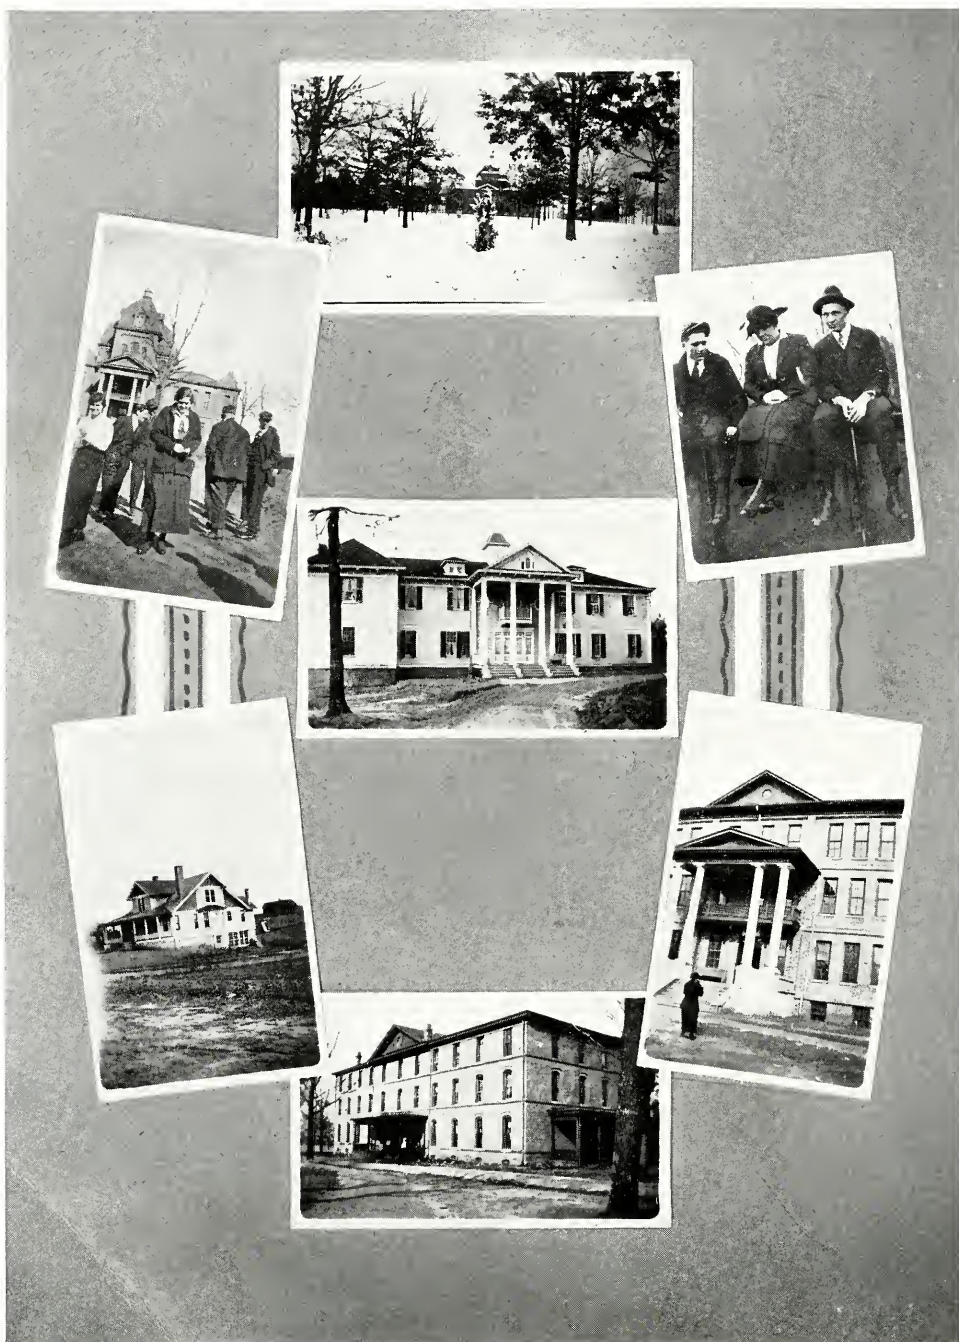

Rather than have it touched with shame.

Ever and always we'll adore

Sophomore schooldays at Lenoir.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Freshman Class History

SEVERAL of us were Sub-Freshmen last year, and made a successful record in our work. We entered the Freshman Class this session. A number of new students, whom we gladly welcomed, cast their lot with us at the beginning of the present year.

During the latter part of September, 1915, the first Class meeting was called. At this meeting, officers were elected, a motto was chosen, the colors were selected, and a committee was appointed to select a yell. We had an enrollment of fifty members. We also had several other meetings during the year, whenever we had business to transact.

At the beginning of school, the higher classmen—especially the Sophs—called us “Freshies” and “Greenies”; but we paid little attention to this, and after they saw that their taunting and jeering was of no avail they began to look upon us with a more benign aspect.

We were well represented in athletics. We had members on the baseball, basket-ball, and tennis teams. The Freshman Class was the best represented in basket-ball of any Class in Lenoir College this year. If they keep up this basket-ball spirit as they have done heretofore, they will win some notable victories for their College.

A number of our boys and girls are taking extra work in Business or Music, and they have made a decided success. We feel that the Faculty is proud of us, because it has been so kind to us. We have toiled patiently with our work during the year, and have spent the time very pleasantly and successfully together? The majority of us expect to return in the fall, and we extend a hearty welcome to all who wish to join our Class when we assemble again.

—CLASS HISTORIAN

Freshman Class Poem

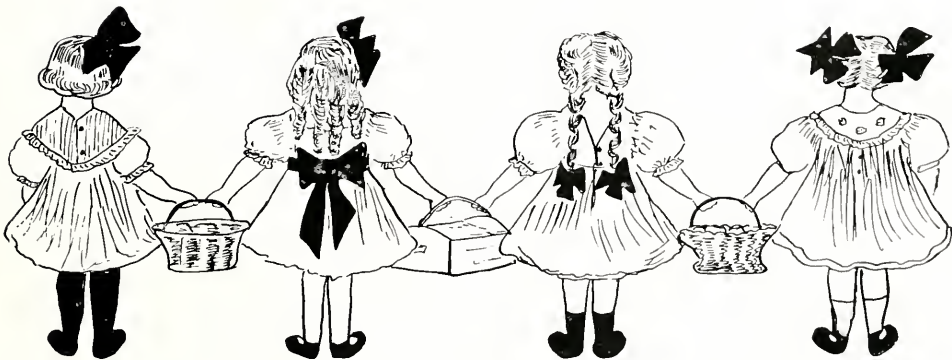

WE, a Class of fifty strong,
With all our troubles and our fears,
Ask your help as we prolong
Our daily tasks for coming years.

We ask you, when you criticize,
To keep one thing in mind;
For still in your memory lies
The things you left behind.

Though quiet Fresh, as we may seem,
Better days will come along,
When we, the Class of old Nineteen,
Can view the way that you have gone.

So, give to us encouragement,
That we may rise from day to day,
To do our work and be content
When going on our rugged way.

Timothean Hymn

ART thou the man
Whom God did plan
Should be the one, through all the world,
To help his gospel be unfurled?

If so, then choose
And n'er refuse
To God your heart fore'er to lend,
And through the world His word to send.

Come, join our band,
And with us stand
Till all the world sends back the praise
Which now the blessed angels raise.

Leaves from Lenoir Catalog

LOCATION AND ENVIRONMENT

LENOIR COLLEGE is situated in Hickory, N. C., on the banks of beautiful Cripple Creek. The location is very dangerous; the adjacent pea-vineyard furnishes food all the year 'round.

RECREATION

Plenty of outdoor exercise is necessary for the digestion of hash and beans. Trunk-carrying from Highland Hall to Oakview was instituted for this purpose.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

The spirit of Christianity influences the entire College. Every Sunday morning, all pupils who cannot get excused attend Sunday School and church. In the afternoon, one hour is set aside for slumbering and writing love-letters.

SOCIAL LIFE

Our chief aim is to make our young ladies and young gentlemen socially efficient. For this reason the "Warpath" was established. The young ladies are permitted to receive young men callers while at home during the Christmas holidays.

GENERAL OUTFIT

Every student is required to bring from home a photograph of mother and father, an extra pair of shoes, and one pair of opera glasses. Special Requirements—Young ladies: Bottle of Hoyt's perfume. Young men: One red tie.

THE LIBRARY

This provides access to the best literature—such as Puck, Good Housekeeping, and Life. These cannot be taken from the library, nor can they be read there; they are for ornamentation only.

DEPARTMENT OF EXPRESSION

Special lessons will be given to those desiring to learn the "Lenoir yell," and how to make a graceful bow.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC

This aims to provide a complete and thorough knowledge of ragtime mus.c. Systematic study of the proper way of holding hands is of the greatest importance.

MATHEMATICS

Text-books used are: "Glyco's Brokeonometry," "Howell's First Steps in Spending," and "Hall's Borrowing."

LOVE

Advantages in this are many. Monday nights, receptions, and ushers at recitals are provided especially for this branch. Free lessons will be given, nightly, by the teachers, to all the sub-Freshmen.

ART

Requirements: One mirror, one box of rouge, and a generous supply of paint.

GERMAN

Entrance specifications: A full knowledge of the War, and unrestrained loyalty to the Kaiser.

DEGREES

The degree will be given to anyone remaining four years. At the end of each year, the degree of B. S. will be bestowed upon all whose flow of natural gas has been continuous. Diplomas of deficiency will be given to those who flunk. Demerits will be given to all.

Smiles

"Now if you meet some ancient joke
Decked out in modern guise,
Don't frown, and call the thing a fake,
Just laugh—Don't be too wise."

DAISY sighed.

"What is it, Dear?" Honey asked tenderly.

DAISY: Just think, Sweetheart, this is the last evening we can be together until tomorrow.

DAUGHTER (to Dr. Fritz, who is reading): Oh, Dad, look at that big black spider on the ceiling.

DR. FRITZ (absent-mindedly): Don't disturb me, daughter; just step on the bug.

DR. LONGAKER: All those who are absent, will please write their names on a slip of paper, and hand it to me as they pass out the door.

SENIOR: Kepley, are you coming up to the recital tonight?

MR. KEPLEY: Provided they have an infernal reception afterward.

MISS WALTERS: Do you know that piece of music called Caruso?

DR. MAUNEY (in Senior Bible): Order, Order!

PAUL YODER (sleepily): "A hamburger sandwich and a piece of pie."

RUTH CORPENING (upstairs): Oh, Miss Ely, won't you please 'phone to Mr. Miller's and have six eggs sent up? We want to make whipped cream right after study hour.

JUSTICE RUDISILL: Professor Hartwig, Jake told me to tell you he'd be sick today during English. Shucks! I don't mean that! He said to tell you he was to be sick.

LECTURER ON WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE: Now, what would follow if all the women were taken out of Hickory?

SUMMIE MILLER (from the gallery): I would.

RUBE LIPPARD: I don't mean to be conceited; but I do think I have the supremest ideals of any fellow in school.

PEARL MILLER: I'm wild to travel in Europe.

JOE KLUTTZ: Huh; I'd lots rather travel in France and Italy.

BRUCE SIGMON: I took a bath last night, and caught a dreadful cold.

HUNSUCKER: You should not have washed it all off at once.

The Things that Puzzle Us

WHY is Roy Huffman always dreaming of a "Powlas," when he doesn't desire to be rich?

I'm sure we can never unpuzzle this puzzle: Why Mary Lipe very often strolls to the pond, just to hear the frogs sing, "Ca Plonk, Ca Plonk, Ca Plonk."

It is queer that Grady Stroup likes the "Kohn" better than the ice cream.

Why does Elida persist in loving C. E. Kepley, when he doesn't return it in the least?

We can't imagine why "Hubby" ties his steps to the ground.

Why does Nellie Kate Drye get wet when it rains?

We often wonder why F. L. Conrad is always happy when everything is "Mary."

Why is it when you see Tom Peeler walking the Warpath you always find Ruth Corpening near?

We wonder why Mark Longaker is never afraid in the dark, when he has only one "Beam" as a guide.

We can't conceive any idea what the Student Commission does with the girls' social privileges when they take them.

We can never understand why Ruth Campbell can be a "Camel" without a hump on her back.

Such are the puzzles which have been puzzling us so much, and puzzles which we long to have solved.
